Value Of Sleep

Possible To Live Longer Without Food Than Without Sleep

Science has evolved drugs that will put one to sleep, but just what it is that brings natural sleep is as great a mystery today as it was to the cave-man who curled up on his rock mattress with his flowing beard spread over him for a quilt. It is a

Mr. Hartman had on exhibition the above.

As Rev. Geo. A. Steele is taking his vacation this month, the services of the United Church will be discontinued until the next week.

Mr. Steele expects to take a trip to the Pacific Coast.

V. L. Spriggett, formerly principal of the Delia Public School, has now moved to Youngstown, where he will be the principal on the teaching staff.

Mr. Spriggett also obtained an appointment, and will teach grades 1 and 2.

Next Tuesday evening, Aug. 13, Mr. Robt. Gardiner, M.P. for Alberta, will speak in the Olympia Theatre.

His talk will be a record of the past season at Ottawa, and all farmers and others are invited to attend.

The fact that Chautauque is again signed up to come to Delia next week, is an indication that it is wanted, although it was difficult to get the usual number of signatures this year.

The speaker mentioned in the article for writing last week, the "harvest comes," says H. H. Forke. He considers the weather a good one for the harvest, and the weather will mean the showing up of improvements that have been made here in the past year.

The light crop in Western Canada, resulting from drier weather and hot winds, has given rise to the grain's attitude towards an influx of immigration. While the situation is serious, in the West, it is not so serious in the East.

There will be work at good wages for willing labor, but the harvest comes, says H. H. Forke. He considers the weather a good one for the harvest, and the weather will mean the showing up of improvements that have been made here in the past year.

Department of Agriculture

Poultry Commissioner Appointed

George M. Corbin, who for the past several years has been in charge of poultry promotion work in this province for the Dominion Government, has been appointed Poultry Commissioner for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, and will leave for Ottawa about August 16, it is announced by Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture.

Under a recent arrangement between the Provincial and Dominion Governments the Poultry Commissioner's office in the latter is being maintained from the province, and will continue to be maintained until the summer of the next year.

It will long have been difficult for the province to be continued in the future under the supervision of the Alberta Department of Agriculture. The Alberta Government has also secured the services of Ivel C. Campbell, who has been in charge of poultry work in the former work, and he will join the staff of the provincial Poultry Branch, R. C. Steele and Douglas Thorburn will remain in the service of the provincial Poultry Branch, where they have been employed for some time.

An extensive program of research work along poultry will be undertaken by J. H. Hare, who has been poultry commissioner, and who will be in charge of the work of the provincial Poultry Branch. Other research work will be carried on. It is by Mr. Hare, that there is a head of the Poultry Branch, and the interests of the poultry industry in the province are being promoted.

Mr. Hare, who is poultry work, is qualified for this work, will devote his entire time to the research work of the Poultry Branch, and will continue to be in the service of the Department to the satisfaction of the government.
